Workshop 1

Measuring the outcomes in day hospitals and geriatric day centres programs: The Quebec experience and challenges

This workshop will help identify the key challenges in assessing the performance of day hospitals and geriatric day centres programs.

One of the major roles of the Health and Social Services Minister is to analyze the funding formula and identify the factors which determine a better balance between the supply and demand of services. The work of the Bédard Committee should help in the development of a new model to better distribute health resources, and to take into account the volume, complexity and diversity of the client group, as well as relative performance and effective control of public financial resources.

In this context, measuring the outcomes in day hospitals and geriatric day centres programs is key to assessing the supply of services and related funding.

Workshop 4

An Elder Friendly Hospital: Creating a Cultural Shift to Realize a Preferred Future

The need to think about caring differently for hospitalized older people has come. This workshop will provide participants with innovative strategies to infiltrate acute care traditions with gerontological principles. Participants will learn, in a cost neutral way, how to influence systems and processes in their organizations. This workshop would mark the beginning of a national movement to create Elder Friendly Hospitals.

Older adults are the majority of people using hospital services. The literature is fraught with examples of how dangerous a hospital can be for older adults. Today many organizations are struggling with the demands of quality service delivery in a climate of fiscal restraint. Non-traditional approaches are required. Innovation is key and our organization has taken up the challenge in ways that are unusual and cost effective. What the mother babe, pediatric movement accomplished twenty-five years ago is achievable for people at the other end of the life spectrum. This workshop will demonstrate to participants how to begin the change process that is needed to protect vulnerable older patients in all processes of coming to, being in and leaving hospital.

Aging and Society: Taking Charge of the Future - Xavier Gaullier

Xavier Gaullier first studied Literature (he holds a B.A in Literature and a B.A in Philosophy), before moving to Sociology and doing research work at the University of Chicago (USA). He completed a Ph.D. (Doctorat de troisième cycle) in Sociology (1979) and a further Doctorat d'État in Humanities (Sorbonne, 1988).

First Professor, and then Director at the Institut d'Études Sociales (Paris), Mr. Gaullier has worked as a researcher for the Centre de Sociologie des Organisations before joining the CNRS (National Scientific Research Centre), in 1980, where he has successively led the following research units "Ages and Society", "Social Time, Ages and Cultural Models". Jointly responsible for the interdisciplinary DEA (Degree in Advanced Studies) "Aging, Health and Society" (Sorbonne, Paris V), he was also "chargé de mission" for the International Labour Office and the European Community, and a Member of the Scientific Committee of the Mission Interministérielle de Recherche (MIRE) (Interministerial Mission on Research).

His work has focused on study of the social net and the welfare state, the sociology of public and private sector policies and old age, and "managing ages" in the workplace and in society. His research has led him to study population aging in the context of evolving lifestyles, social time and life cycles. He has conducted numerous empirical studies through interviews with older workers, pensioners and corporate executives, in cooperation with unions, associations, pension funds and governments, including other countries, such as the United States, the United-Kingdom, Central Europe and Canada (Quebec).

The TriAD™ program is designed to guide the clinician, the person affected and the caregiver in a team approach to Alzheimer Disease.

For patients and caregivers: to help understand the disease and plan for the future. The program consist of two components:

We have the answer you've been looking for. Introducing the Lifestyle brochure series.

In making the decision to move to a retirement residence many questions are asked. "I'm moving from a four-bedroom house to a one-bedroom suite. How am I going to decide what to take with me?" "I'm going to have more free time available to me...what am I going to do?" "It's been a long time since I last met a new group of friends – what's the best way to meet other residents?" Even family members ask for advice now and then, especially when it comes to broaching the subject with Mom or Dad. As a health care practitioner you know the questions well – and they're not always easy to answer.

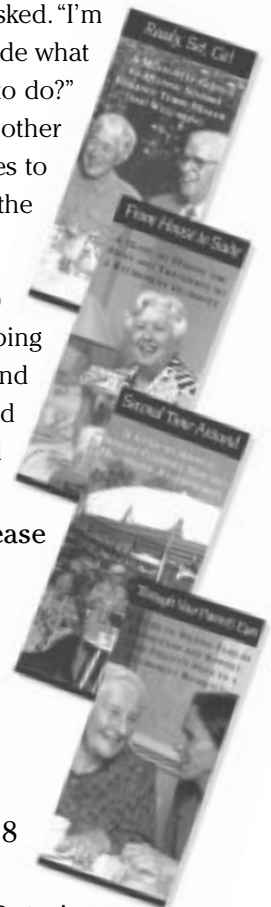

Well, we're here to help. We provide the answers to these questions (and many more) in our insightful Lifestyle brochure series. The series of four brochures focuses on developing new relationships later in life; improving one's health and well-being; making the move and transition to retirement accommodations; and understanding and supporting a loved one's move to a retirement residence. The series provides you with the answers you need to help older adults make an informed decision about their new retirement lifestyle.

Location: Westmount/Outremont

Fortyforever.com - Tom Perls

Dr. Thomas Perls is a physician and researcher in the study of aging at Boston University School of Medicine. As Associate Professor in Medicine and a Geriatrician he cares for older patients at Boston Medical Center. For the past eight years he has directed the New England Centenarian Study. The study has documented that centenarians have a history of aging relatively slowly and have either markedly delayed or entirely escaped diseases normally associated with aging such as Alzheimer's disease, cancer, stroke and heart disease. The New England Centenarian Study is now focusing on the discovery of potentially a few key genes that play crucial roles in how we age and our susceptibility to diseases associated with aging.

Student Events at a Glance

Friday, October 25th

10:30-noon Roundtable Discussion – Division-Student Mentorship Program

St. Michel Room, Hotel Bonaventure Hilton

Join Dr. Sandra Hirst, Dr. Janice O’Keefe, Sherry Anne Chapman (President, SC-CÉ ) and Kristine Votova (Vice President, SC-CÉ) to explore future directions for this program as a medium for recruiting and developing student membership in the CAG and its divisions.

7:30pm: Students On the Town Evening

Main lobby, Hotel Bonaventure Hilton

Students are invited to tour local nightspots ‘en masse’, a great opportunity to meet other students from around the country. Everyone will pay his or her own way.

Saturday, October 26th

12-1pm: SC-CÉ Annual General Meeting & Lunch

Fontaine C Room, Hotel Bonaventure Hilton

Be sure to attend this year’s SC-CÉ Annual General Meeting. Enjoy a light buffet lunch, meet your SC-CÉ Executive Committee and Members-at-Large, participate in the elections for 2002, and learn more about SC-CÉ activities across Canada.

RSVP: $10 per student.
