The Canadian Association on Gerontology (CAG) is a national, multidisciplinary scientific and educational association established to provide leadership in matters related to the aging population. A registered Canadian charity, the CAG was founded on October 15, 1971 and is a member of the International Association of Gerontology and Geriatrics.

Our Vision: To be the Canadian authority on individual and population aging.

Our Mission: The Canadian Association on Gerontology seeks to improve the lives of older Canadians through the creation and dissemination of knowledge in gerontological policy, practice, research and education.

Our membership is a dynamic mix of people interested in the field of gerontology including health care professionals, researchers, academics, administrators, government representatives, national organization executives, students and seniors.

CAG members receive a discount on conference registration, in addition to other member benefits.

Minister
of State (Seniors)

Ministre
d'État (Aînés)

Ottawa, Canada K1A 0J9

On behalf of the Government of Canada, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the 42nd Annual Scientific and Educational Meeting of the Canadian Association on Gerontology.

As Minister of State for Seniors, I'm committed to helping improve the lives of seniors on many fronts, which includes helping them to stay active, engaged and informed. To this end, I commend all the accomplished gerontologists and other experts at this year's conference for their contribution toward improving the lives of ageing adults.

The conference theme explores the impacts of ageing from a cellular to a societal level. Taking an all-encompassing approach to the discussion can be very effective, as many issues affecting seniors, such as staying informed, caregiving and active participation, are interconnected. The work undertaken by the National Seniors Council complements this approach. This year the Council will assess how social isolation affects seniors and explore ways to prevent and reduce the social isolation of seniors in Canada.

Through numerous programs, services and initiatives, our Government is providing opportunities for seniors to participate and make a difference in their communities. I encourage you to visit seniors.gc.ca and the 'Information for Seniors' portal to learn more about these opportunities.

I would like to thank the Canadian Association on Gerontology for hosting an event that offers tremendous learning opportunities and supports healthy living for older Canadians.

Best wishes for a successful event!

Greetings from the Mayor

It is my distinct pleasure to extend warm greetings and a special welcome to all attending the 42nd Annual Scientific and Educational Meeting of the Canadian Association on Gerontology.

Halifax Regional Municipality is the place to be, a marquee destination embracing a diversity of people, communities, attractions and entertainment, business and services, restaurants and nightlife, shops and boutiques that will present you with a truly original experience.

Our culturally rich and historic port city has been entertaining guests for over 250 years and we take pride in our reputation as one of the world's most hospitable and welcoming destinations.

I want to acknowledge with gratitude, the Canadian Association on Gerontology, the Division of Geriatric Medicine at Dalhousie University, the Local Scientific Committee and their partners and sponsors for hosting this convention here in our region.

I wish you much success and trust your visit will be a truly memorable experience.

Kindest regards,

Mike Savage
Mayor

Greetings from the President of Dalhousie University

On behalf of Dalhousie University, I am pleased to welcome you to Halifax, Nova Scotia for the 42nd Annual Scientific and Educational Meeting of the Canadian Association on Gerontology.

Researchers from Dalhousie University continue to make important contributions to our understanding of the many ways in which aging affects health, personhood and participation. We reside in a province that is one of the oldest in the country, and where the incidences of obesity, cancer and diabetes fall at or near the top of any government list. In this context, healthy aging remains front-and-centre in our research agenda. We are especially proud that our faculty includes some of Canada's most cited researchers in aging, who are well regarded nationally and internationally for their leadership in gerontology.

I wish you a productive and stimulating meeting – one that will bring new insights, build new collaborations and draw vital attention to this important societal issue.

Sincerely,

Richard Florizone
President and Vice-Chancellor

Greetings from the President of CAG

Welcome to Halifax, Nova Scotia for the 42nd Annual Scientific and Educational Meeting (ASEM) of the Canadian Association on Gerontology. A stellar program of activities and events will be presented to educate, enlighten, engage, and – not to be under-rated – entertain, the many delegates who will gather in this unique and heart-warming city on Canada's east coast for their annual, not-to-be missed celebration of the best that gerontology has to offer. On behalf of all of us who stand to benefit, I want to thank the CAG2013 Scientific Committee headed by Dr. Kenneth Rockwood, as well as Dr. Anthony Lombardo, Executive Director of the CAG, and his team for their months of collaborative planning and preparation.

The 42nd ASEM will also mark a milestone for the CAG, as we have the opportunity to reaffirm our commitment to the organization, with its storied history, dynamic present and promising future, by responding to the government of Canada's transition requirements under the new Not-for-profit (NFP) Act that governs charitable organizations such as the CAG. Members of the CAG will want to include attendance at the annual general meeting on Friday in their conference schedule to be part of this important vote in support of an application for a Certificate of Continuance under the new NFP Act.

The ASEM is the CAG's flagship event, and our time in Halifax will forge another link in a long chain of successful conferences. While immersing yourself in the intellectual stimulation and social affability that the 42nd ASEM will provide, take a moment to think of the many people that contribute time and effort in many different roles to make the CAG the multi-faceted, significant and valued organization that it is on both the Canadian and world stage.

With best wishes to all attendees for a most rewarding conference experience,

Maggie Gibson, PhD, CPsych, President, Canadian Association on Gerontology

Greetings from the Conference Chair

On behalf of the CAG2013 Scientific Committee and the Division of Geriatric Medicine at Dalhousie University, I welcome you to Halifax, Nova Scotia for the 42nd Annual Scientific and Educational Meeting of the Canadian Association on Gerontology (CAG).

This year's theme, "Aging: from Cells to Society", crosses many levels of investigation, emphasizes multidisciplinary inquiry and explores topics that bind all gerontologists together. Our shared and overriding interest, curiosity and passion for improving the lives of older adults inspires us to address the impacts of aging from a cellular to a societal level. It is clear that many of the social, education and policy themes that we encounter around issues of ageing have their counterparts, clinically, at the organ and tissue level, and even at the subcellular and molecular level. To this end, we have put together a diverse program to appeal to attendees from a broad range of professions with a wide spectrum of views and interests.

Our guest speakers exemplify the broad remit of gerontology: we'll hear from a New York Times journalist about engaging through media; learn about new directions in geriatric medicine research from the National Health Service's National Clinical Director for Integration & Frail Elderly; listen to perspectives on family caregiving from the Desjardins Chair in Nursing Care for Older Persons and Families; delve into public policy issues around aging populations and health care systems with a Schulich School of Law Professor; and learn about one community's innovative approach to addressing elder abuse as shared by a restorative justice consultant.

In putting together a program that features some of the best in current thinking, we hope that you will find the Halifax CAG2013 meeting to be a memorable experience. As always, it would not be an Atlantic Canada conference without some emphasis on the hospitality, which we trust will be equally memorable. We are hoping for good weather, but keep your umbrella handy - and your sweater!

Identification Badge

Your identification badge, included in the registration package, must be worn at all times for admission to the scientific program, refreshments, breaks, lunches and exhibits. Replacement badges will be available at the registration desk for $12.

On-Site Registration/Information Desk

On-site registration and general information is available at the Conference Registration Desk located on the Conference Level. The registration/information desk is open as follows:

- Thursday, October 17 7:30 – 20:00
- Friday, October 18 7:00 – 20:00
- Saturday, October 19 7:00 – 17:00

Language of Presentation

All keynote sessions have simultaneous interpretation available in English and French. Oral paper, symposium, and poster presentations will be given in French or English, at the discretion of the presenter. No translation will be provided for these sessions unless otherwise indicated in the program.

Presenters: Loading PowerPoint for Symposia and Oral Sessions

Individuals who are presenting in symposia or oral paper sessions are required to bring their presentation on a USB key to their designated rooms 5 minutes before their presentation to upload their presentations.

SC-CÉ Media Resource Display Fundraiser

(Formerly the Student Book Display)

Organized by the Student Connection-Connexion Étudiante (SC-CÉ) of the Canadian Association on Gerontology (CAG), the SC-CÉ Media Resource Display Fundraiser invites delegates to purchase tickets for a chance to win one of our donated books or DVDs. This year our fundraiser includes resources in both French and English. Raffle tickets are on sale during conference breaks for $2.00 each or three for $5.00 until 1:30 pm on Saturday, October 19th. The names of the winners are drawn and posted on Saturday afternoon. Raffle winners can come to the display table to pick up their choice of book or DVD starting at 2:30 pm on Saturday, October 19, immediately following the afternoon keynote session. All proceeds directly support the SC-CÉ and its members. Come out and support the student members of CAG!

Student Poster Competition

The CIHR Institute of Aging is sponsoring the poster competition for graduate and post graduate students. A $500 prize will be awarded by the Institute of Aging in each of the following categories: Master's, Doctoral and Post Doctoral Fellow.

The winners will be announced during lunch on Saturday, October 19. All candidates are expected to attend. Awards will be presented by the CIHR Institute of Aging.

Posters are judged with students in attendance by three judges on the following criteria:

1. Quality of the Research (clarity of theoretical perspectives, method, sample, findings, discussion, limitations)
2. Merit of the Research (validity of conclusions, relevancy to field of aging, potential for application)
3. Quality of Abstract and Content (coherence, logical flow, grammar, spelling, concise abstract)
4. Demonstrated Understanding of the Student (recognition of limits of the study, familiar with research context)
5. Special Merit marks will be awarded for innovative, novel research projects.

Age-Friendly Communities Canada Hub / University of Manitoba, Centre on Aging

The Age-Friendly Communities Canada Hub brings together everyone interested in age-friendly communities in Canada. Learn about initiatives in the area, connect with others, and share your own stories at <http://afc-hub.ca>. The Centre on Aging, University of Manitoba is a lead partner on the Hub. Established on July 1, 1982, the Centre's vision is "To be a recognized leader in research in aging, to improve the lives of older adults, their caregivers and families, and to enhance communities within and outside of Manitoba". The Centre on Aging conducts, stimulates and promotes research on aging, provides an interdisciplinary focus for the research activities in aging at the universities in Manitoba, and supports the teaching of students in aging.

CAG2014 / McMaster University, Gilbrea Centre for Studies in Aging & Department of Health, Aging & Society

The Gilbrea Centre for Studies in Aging is a hub of research, teaching, and outreach, with a mission to improve all aspects of the lives of older adults by linking research, education, and practice at McMaster with local, national and global initiatives.

Health, Aging & Society is an inter-disciplinary department (economics, human geography, political science, social work, and sociology) which gives students the opportunity to examine health and aging issues through undergraduate and graduate level programs.

We are pleased to be hosting CAG2014: Landscapes of Aging, in Niagara Falls next year.

Canada Vigilance Program – Health Canada

The Canada Vigilance Program is part of Health Canada's post-market surveillance program that collects and assesses reports of suspected adverse reactions to health products marketed in Canada. Post-market surveillance enables Health Canada to monitor the safety profile of health products to determine if their benefits continue to outweigh their risks. Please call (toll-free) at 1-866-234-2345 or visit www.health.gc.ca/medeffect for more information.

Canadian Institutes of Health Research Institute of Aging (CIHR-IA)

The CIHR Institute of Aging's mandate is to ensure the availability of knowledge with respect to the determinants of active aging as well as those related to the complex health challenges of the older person with the objective of providing better prevention and intervention programs as well as an efficient and adapted continuum of services for the older person. In collaboration with the other CIHR Institutes, the Institute of Aging seizes the opportunities and contributes to facing the challenges associated with the aging Canadian population. The Canadian Journal on Aging / La Revue canadienne du vieillissement is a refereed, quarterly publication of the Canadian Association on Gerontology, published by Cambridge University Press. It publishes manuscripts on aging with a focus on biology, health sciences, psychology, social sciences, and social policy and practice. Cambridge University Press publishes the finest academic and educational writing from around the world and is dedicated to advancing knowledge, education, learning and research. Since publishing its first work in 1584, Cambridge now publishes over 50,000 titles covering academic research, professional development, over 340 research journals, school-level education, English language teaching, and bible publishing.

Canadian Pain Society

A National Society of 800 members including physicians, dentists, nurses, physiotherapists, psychologists, scientists, education professionals and others. The CPS supports the treatment of pain as a basic human right. Aims and mandate include fostering and encouraging research on pain mechanisms and syndromes; promoting education; encouraging the development of uniform records systems; informing the general public of results and implications of current research; advising agencies on standards and engaging in other activities in furtherance of the aforementioned purposes.

Exhibitors

Dalhousie University, Geriatric Medicine Research

Geriatric Medicine Research, operating under the Centre for Health Care of the Elderly at the Capital District Health Authority and Dalhousie University, is a multidisciplinary research group focusing on issues of aging, frailty and cognition. We implement a patient-centred research model that aims to make care better for frail older adults and people with dementia. We know that aging is a complex issue and we tackle it with a long term, multi-dimensional approach that includes clinical trials, research projects involving primary data collection and secondary data analysis, as well as provincial, national and international collaborations and exchanges.

Health Canada, Water and Air Quality Bureau

Health Canada works closely with other federal departments and provincial/territorial health departments to help Canadians improve and maintain their health. The Water and Air Quality Bureau is responsible for assessing the risks associated with Canadians' exposure to both indoor and outdoor air pollution and for giving recommendations to Canadians on how to reduce their exposure and therefore, health effects associated with this exposure.

Lakehead University, Centre for Education and Research on Aging & Health

The Centre for Education and Research on Aging & Health (CERAH) is located at Lakehead University in Thunder Bay Ontario. Our mission is to conduct high quality knowledge translation through rigorous research and evidence-based education to advance health and social care for an aging population and promote the health & wellbeing of people aging across the life span. Key priorities include: Aging at Home; Indigenous Peoples' Health & Aging; Dementia & Geriatric Mental Health; Health Promotion & Exercise and Chronic Disease Management; and Palliative Care.

Mount Saint Vincent University, Family Studies and Gerontology Department

The Department of Family Studies and Gerontology (FSGN) at Mount Saint Vincent University, located in Halifax, Nova Scotia, offers studies in two areas: (1) Gerontology, and (2) Family Studies. A gerontology minor, concentration, and combined major are offered at the undergraduate level, and a Master of Arts in FSGN is offered at the graduate level. Students are prepared for a variety of careers focusing on prevention, support, and community development for older individuals.

National Association for Professional Gerontologists

The National Association for Professional Gerontologists (NAPG) is a non-profit organization that recognizes a core body of Gerontological knowledge and credentials the academic and professional attainment of Gerontologists. In addition to credentialing Gerontology professionals internationally, NAPG promotes discipline standards and credibility, advocates for the field, and provides networking and continuing education (CEUs) opportunities for members. Credentials are available at four academic/professional levels: Gerontologist, Gerontological Specialist, Gerontological Coordinator, and Professional/Scholar Affiliate. Visit us at: <http://www.napgerontologists.org>.

Northwood Intouch

Northwood Intouch provides solutions to help keep people safe and independent in their own homes for as long as possible. We use a variety of technology to provide enhanced security, peace of mind and independence for caregivers and their care recipients. Automatic fall detectors, monitored medication dispensers, stove sensors that will turn a stove off automatically as well as bed alarms, motion detectors, wandering alerts and flood detectors are just some of the solutions we offer.

Nova Scotia Centre on Aging

The Nova Scotia Centre on Aging at Mount Saint Vincent University advances knowledge on aging related issues through research, education and community engagement. We work in collaboration with service providers, decision makers, community organizations, older adults and their families. Stop by our exhibit to learn about our current projects on caregiver assessment, nursing home quality of life, abuse of older adults, seniors mental health, age-friendly communities and more!

Parkland Retirement Living

Parkland Retirement Living offers an exceptional way to live. Beautiful surroundings, private accommodations, fine dining and amenities such as linen service, housekeeping and scheduled transportation service offer clients living at Parkland complete independent living without the burden of home ownership. For those who may prefer some extra help, a variety of assisted living options are also available. Clients are living their best life with an array of services designed for their convenience, enjoyment and health.

Quebec Network of Research on Aging (RQRV)

The mission of the RQRV is to support interdisciplinary research on aging and to promote the maintenance of a critical mass of researchers, help increase overall research capacity, and stimulate the creation of research partnerships in this field. The Network's ultimate goal is to increase knowledge about the biological, clinical, populational, social, and societal aspects of aging. This knowledge can then be used to help promote healthy and active aging, to prevent or delay the expression of chronic diseases and frailty and their harmful effects, and to improve the health care and services provided to the elderly.

Simon Fraser University, Department of Gerontology & Gerontology Research Centre

Established in 1982, the SFU Gerontology Research Centre has an international reputation for research in six areas: Aging and the Built Environment, Health and Aging, Prevention of Elder Abuse and Neglect, Culture and Aging, Changing Demography and Lifestyles, and Technology and Aging. For students seeking careers in gerontology, the associated Department of Gerontology offers a Minor, Post-baccalaureate Diploma, Masters Degree and PhD with opportunities for specialization in the GRC's thematic areas.

St. Thomas University, Department of Gerontology

Established in 1988, The St. Thomas University Gerontology Department offers a comprehensive Double Major and Minor degrees, a certificate programme, and an applied arts programme that combines knowledge, skills, and practice. Following a liberal arts tradition, the department offers a variety of courses including biography, end-of-life, spirituality, and gender. The department has a renowned scholarly reputation for its research on Narrative Gerontology. In addition, international scholars have taken part in the department's Visiting Chairs in Gerontology programme.

University of Toronto, Department of Occupational Science and Occupational Therapy

The Department of Occupational Science and Occupational Therapy at the University of Toronto is dedicated to leadership and has been ranked among the top three programs in North America. This department was the first of its kind for the nation and has produced many of the professions most prominent leaders in education and practice. The role of occupational therapists with older adults particularly in the area of well elderly and fall prevention is supported by strong evidence.

University of Victoria, Centre on Aging

The Centre on Aging is a multidisciplinary research centre at the University of Victoria, with a satellite office in Ladner. Our purpose is to contribute to the body of knowledge in aging under the direction of Holly Tuokko. We conduct research in partnership with seniors and their families, community organizations, health care providers, and various levels of government. We also disseminate knowledge about aging, and provide impetus and direction to the University's aging related activities.

Case Management Certificate

- Gain skills fundamental to client-centered case management
- Understand case management concepts, models and principles
- Locate case management within health and social service policy frameworks
- Learn how other professionals across the country view various ethical, legal and financial issues within a community healthcare environment

Addiction Education Certificate and Diploma

Incorporate the theoretical knowledge and practical skills for working with people with addictions. Focus on the related approaches to intervention, assessment, treatment, relapse prevention and case management. Explore the specific needs of individuals and groups.

- National Award winner for Program Excellence
- Applications accepted throughout the year
- All courses are CACCF approved

Research and Geriatric Medicine: The Road Less Travelled (9:30 – 10:40)

John Young, MB BS (Hons), MSc, MBA, FRCP

School of Medicine, University of Leeds

John Young trained at the Middlesex Hospital, University of London. He was appointed as a consultant geriatrician in Bradford, West Yorkshire, UK in 1986. He took on responsibilities as a clinical manager and developed numerous new services including an elderly care assessment unit; a stroke unit; and an ortho-geriatric unit. Research interests became embedded in the clinical work and included evaluations (mostly by RCT) of days hospitals, stroke care and intermediate care services.

In 2005 he was appointed to a new position as Head of the Academic Unit of Elderly Care & Rehabilitation, University of Leeds. This unit is now one of the largest elderly care applied health research units in the UK. Current research work includes MRC and NIHR Programme Grant funded multi-centre trials in the areas of stroke, delirium and dementia care. Quality improvement work includes leading the design and implementation of national audits of intermediate care and of dementia care in the UK.

Between 2001 and 2007 John was seconded to the Department of Health to assist in policies to improve the care for older people nationally. He was chairman of the British Geriatrics Society English Council, and was Chairman of the NICE Clinical Guideline Development Group for delirium. In 2009 he was awarded the Lady Illingworth prize for "outstanding contributions" to services for older people. He has recently been seconded to the NHS Commissioning Board as National Clinical Director for Older People's Services.

John is still an active fell racer, but these days is happy to gradually accumulate speed rather than accelerate down the hills.

Keynote Speakers

Friday October 18, 2013

*Family Caregivers of Elderly Persons...
Looking Back and Forward (1:30 – 14:40)*

Francine Ducharme, PhD

Faculty of Nursing, University of Montréal

Francine Ducharme, Ph.D., is a full professor at the Faculty of Nursing of the Université de Montréal and a researcher at the Centre de recherche de l'Institut universitaire de gériatrie de Montréal, a research center on aging. She is holder of the Desjardins Research Chair in Nursing Care for Seniors and their Families and member of the Canadian Academy of Health Science. In 2010, she was a laureate of the Distinction Awards of the Women's Y Foundation of Montreal. For the last twenty-five years, her research interests include determinants of health and quality of life of family caregivers of the elderly at home or in long term care settings and evaluation of psychoeducational interventions for family caregivers of vulnerable elderly persons. Her research, published in scientific and professional journals, was funded by the Canadian Institutes of Health Research, the Alzheimer Society of Canada, The Fonds de la recherche du Québec en santé and the Institut national de recherche scientifique (France).

Special Lecture

Friday, October 18, 2013

13th Kathryn Allen Weldon Lecture (18:30 – 20:30)

Dementia: Is it complicated or is it simple?

Kenneth Rockwood, MD, FRCPC, FRCP

Dalhousie University

Kenneth Rockwood is professor of geriatric medicine and neurology at Dalhousie University and a geriatrician at the Centre of Health Care for the Elderly at Capital District Health Authority in Halifax, Nova Scotia. A native of Newfoundland, he became a Doctor of Medicine at Memorial University in 1985, completed internal medicine training at the University of Alberta and geriatric medicine at Dalhousie University, where he has been on staff since 1991. For the last 7 years, in addition to his memory clinics, most of his clinical work is in the Capital District Health Authority as the Department of Medicine's Senior Internist, doing internal medicine consultations in the Emergency Department. Since 2008, he has held an adjunct appointment as Professor in the Institute of Brain, Behaviour and Mental Health at the University of Manchester. He was appointed the Kathryn Allen Weldon Professor of Alzheimer Research at Dalhousie University in 2001 (and has been twice re-appointed). These are outstanding honours in a research career that has also seen several awards in Canada, the US, the UK, Europe, Asia and Australia.

Ken's research focuses on clinical and epidemiological aspects of frailty, dementia and delirium. Over the last 20 years, working with the mathematician Arnold Mitnitski, this has evolved to focus investigations on the complexity of frailty and the dynamics of age-related changes in cognition. He has published more than 350 peer-reviewed scientific publications and seven books, including the seventh edition of the Brocklehurst's Textbook of Geriatric Medicine & Gerontology.

The Kathryn Allen Weldon Lecture is supported by the Dalhousie Medical Research Foundation.

Keynote Speakers

Saturday October 19, 2013

Public Policy and the Aging of Canadians and of their Health Care Systems: Finding and Navigating the Channels between the Shoals of Pilot Project Incrementalism and the Jagged Rocks of Big Bang Reform (9:30 – 10:40)

William Lahey, BA, BA (Juris), LLM
Schulich School of Law, Dalhousie University

William Lahey is an Associate Professor at the Schulich School of Law and the School of Health Administration, Dalhousie University. He is a member and past Director of the Dalhousie Health Law Institute and a member of Dalhousie's Marine and Environmental Law Institute. He is a Rhodes Scholar graduate of Mount Allison University and has law degrees from the University of Oxford and the University of Toronto. He teaches Public Law, Administrative Law and Health Systems Law and Policy and is the winner of two Law School teaching awards. He has published in the fields of health law, administrative law, constitutional law, environmental law, and legal history. He is consulted on law and policy in multiple fields, including health, energy, environment and professional regulation. He is the founding Chair of the Board of Directors of Efficiency Nova Scotia Corporation and Vice-Chair of the Nova Scotia Health Research Foundation. He has served as Deputy Minister of the Nova Scotia Department of Environment and Labour (2004-2007); Assistant Deputy Minister of the Nova Scotia Department of Health (1998-2001); Chief Counsel to the Panel appointed to advise Canada and Nova Scotia on settlement of offshore revenue disputes (2008); and as Independent Reviewer (with Mr. Justice La Forest) of Nova Scotia's mental health legislation. He began his legal career by clerking with Mr. Justice La Forest of the Supreme Court of Canada and has practiced law in both the private and public sectors.

Finding Our Way...A Community's Journey Engaging In Innovative Ways To Identify, Resolve and Prevent Elder Abuse (1:30 – 14:40)

Arlene Groh, RN, BA

Healing Approaches for Elder Abuse and Mistreatment

Ms. Arlene Groh RN, BA, is a consultant for Healing Approaches for Elder Abuse and Mistreatment (www.healingapproaches.com). She pioneered and coordinated the Restorative Justice Approaches to Elder Abuse Project and was a founding member of Waterloo Region's Elder Abuse Response Team. (For related publications please see her website.) She chairs the Waterloo Mayor's Advisory Committee on Age-Friendly Cities

Arlene is a passionate champion and strategist for working in partnership to identify, resolve and prevent elder abuse. Her practice is guided by restorative justice philosophy and values. She is the recipient of many awards for her outstanding contribution to seniors and her dedication to the prevention of elder abuse.

In 2009 Arlene initiated a movement for the City of Waterloo to actively engage in preventing elder abuse by becoming an Age Friendly City. With the support of the Mayor, City staff and residents an Age Friendly City Mayor's Advisory Committee was formed with a goal to ensure that Waterloo is a place where all residents age safely, enjoy good health and participate fully in their community. Lead subcommittees addressed each of the eight areas of AFC as outlined by the World Health Organization. Dr. John Lewis, University of Waterloo, provides ongoing assessment and evaluation of Waterloo's AFC status.

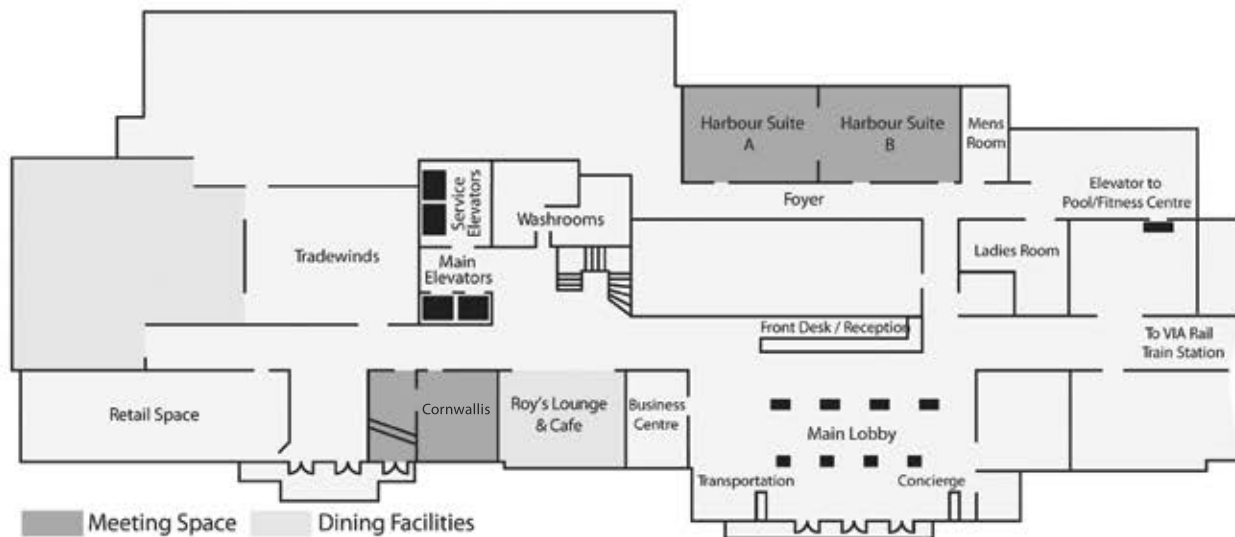

In September 2011, the City of Waterloo was named a member of the World Health Organization's Global Network of Age-friendly Cities. The Mayor's Report that includes key findings, recommendations and an action plan was released in June 2013.

	Population and labour force aging in industrialized nations will increase considerably in the next few decades. Possible labour shortages and concerns about the financial support of retirees are factors that are becoming increasingly important. Employers and policy makers have started to re-evaluate the hiring, retention, and training policies that affect workers over the life course. The risks associated with job loss and barriers to employment, including ageism can be detrimental to the lives of older workers. The Aging and Paid Work Thematic Committee was formed to mobilize knowledge between academics and policy makers working in this area. The purpose of this symposium is to provide a forum to further this agenda and encourage the development of new research projects and networks in the future. Several network members will give formal presentations, which will be followed by feedback from John Rietschlin from HRSDC and an open discussion with session participants. We encourage researchers and policy makers interested in connecting with this network to attend.

When the Ordinary Becomes Extraordinary: How Health Assessment Information Can Be Used to Strengthen Emergency and Disaster Response Capacity for Vulnerable Persons (Part 1/2)

Supported by interRAI Canada and Canadian Red Cross

Maritime

  	The combination of population aging and policy shifts emphasizing aging at home has resulted in escalating numbers of community dwelling persons vulnerable to the impacts of emergencies and disasters. In addition, the frequency and scale of disasters is predicted to increase due to factors like global warming and expansion of human habitats. This poses a major challenge for first and secondary responders such as the fire department, paramedics and expert disaster management organizations such as the Canadian Red Cross. Relatively recent developments in electronic health records provide an unprecedented opportunity to leverage comprehensive assessment information collected as standard clinical practice in the health sector in the identification of vulnerable persons. In many Canadian jurisdictions, assessment information is supported by sophisticated software, data warehouses and reporting systems – the foundation needed to leverage assessment information and enable a prompt and effective disaster response for vulnerable community dwelling persons. This symposium will review what is known about disaster response for vulnerable persons, the gaps that have been identified, and what resources could be leveraged to fill those gaps. These resources include pervasive, standardized health assessment information systems (interRAI), the reach of recognized disaster response organizations (Red Cross) and the voice of experience (wisdom shared by care providers who deliver their ordinary services under extraordinary circumstances.)

11:00 - 12:30 Workshop VI
Restorative Approach to Seniors' Safety and Security: Exploring the use of restorative approaches to help seniors and their families heal from harms
Supported by the Government of Nova Scotia
	Healing Approaches to Senior Abuse: the Fundy Network is a diverse and broad collation with representation from the Department of Seniors, Department of Justice, RCMP, Elder Law Specialists, Senior Safety Coordinators, Universities, Restorative Justice Practitioners, Nova Scotia Human Rights Commission, and of course, seniors themselves and other valued community members. Our HASA Network has developed a planned intervention model that is based on finding restorative ways to heal harm to seniors. The pilot project involves Senior Safety Coordinators and Restorative Justice Agencies working closely together to identify seniors who have experienced harm and are interested in exploring restorative approaches to healing those harms. In this workshop we will explore restorative approaches to dispute resolution and healing of harms. We delve more deeply into senior abuse and senior safety issues. Finally, we give participants the opportunity to see restorative approaches to senior abuse at work through a participatory demonstration.
